Rocky Mountaineer Train - Rockies to the Red Rocks

- Travel Dates: April 9 – October 27, 2025 (Departures on Wednesdays and Sundays).
- Two-day rail journey from Denver to Moab.
- SilverLeaf Plus Service: domed panoramic railcar, exclusive lounge access, and outdoor viewing area.
- Gourmet meals (two breakfasts, one lunch), fine wines, and handcrafted cocktails onboard.
- Train by day, hotel by night to maximize sightseeing and comfort.
- One night's accommodation in Denver, the night before the Rocky Mountaineer train trip.
- Overnight stay in Glenwood Springs, CO, with luggage service.

What to Expect

Enjoy spectacular scenery through oversized panoramic windows as you travel from the Rocky Mountains to the crimson red-rock country in Moab, Utah. The train climbs between 5,000 and 9,000 feet in elevation, revealing dramatic changes in scenery, flora, fauna, and wildlife. Following the headwaters of the Colorado River, it winds through mountain ranges and eight distinct canyons formed by geological layers dating back over 1.8 billion years.
